

10-7-2015

The Chanticleer, 2015-10-07

Coastal Carolina University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.coastal.edu/chanticleer>

Part of the Higher Education Commons, and the History Commons

Recommended Citation

Coastal Carolina University, "The Chanticleer, 2015-10-07" (2015). The Chanticleer Student Newspaper. 646.
<https://digitalcommons.coastal.edu/chanticleer/646>

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Kimbel Library and Bryan Information Commons at CCU Digital Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Chanticleer Student Newspaper by an authorized administrator of CCU Digital Commons. For more information, please contact commons@coastal.edu.

THE CHANTICLEER

OCTOBER 7, 2015 | VOLUME 55 | ISSUE 6

The Student Voice Of Coastal Carolina University

ISSUU.COM/THECHANTICLEERNEWSPAPER

Coastal Carolina celebrates their 100th win

IAN BROOKING, THE CHANTICLEER

Jessica Wetzler
REPORTER

"Winning the 100th game is a wonderful milestone," said Moglia. "Every coach and every player that has been apart of the Coastal football program should be proud."

Coastal Carolina played Alabama A&M for the homecoming game on October 3, 2015. It was Coastal Carolina's fifth game in the Big South Conference this year.

With a hurricane watch, time change, and the rain clouds hovering over the field, The Chanticleers pulled out a tremendous win as they won 55-0. The Chanticleers proved that no matter the weather or the complications, the game was to continue to go on and the fans would not be disappointed.

Attendance was lower than usually with 9,093 students and fans filling the stadium. Kick off time was at 2pm and the game ended at 4:40pm.

In the first quarter, the Chanticleers made it clear that they had a set game plan to win today's game by scoring six points in the first three minutes of the quarter. The touchdown was made by De'Angelo Henderson who continued to make two

SEE HOMECOMING | PAGE 6

COURTESY PHOTO | CAROLINE CARINI, CHRISTINA TERUEL, ALEX BARLEY, THERESA CALABRESE

CCU celebrates victory over ECU in inaugural Design Clash

Jamal Yeldell
REPORTER

Design Clash is a new graphic design competition that gives participants the opportunity to step into a professional graphic design atmosphere, allowing them to enhance their imagination, and gain experience by seeing how a graphic design firm works.

Three teams participated in this year's inaugural competition including one from East Carolina University, and two from Coastal Carolina University. Normally there

COURTESY PHOTO

Parking without consent

Samantha Bergold
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

On campus and at University Place, students and employees have been parking in no park zones.

Coastal Carolina student Dani Lepley said when this happens, it makes it really difficult for her to get into her building at UP.

"It's inconsiderate for people to park in no park zones, even if just for a minute," said Lepley. "It's also illegal. I honestly feel like students don't really take it seriously though, because even Aramark vans park in no park zones on occasion. So, they may feel they don't have to take it seriously."

Lepley said she does not see it happen everyday, but it is happening a few times a week.

"I have to either maneuver around cars that are in no park zones or I have to find another ramp to get up onto the sidewalk," said Lepley. "This is kind of dangerous in a way because it requires me to stay in the road and it can be difficult for parked cars to see me because my

SEE PARKING | PAGE 3

IAN BROOKING, THE CHANTICLEER

IN THIS ISSUE

NEWS | 3
Homecoming Royalty
Shell Squad

FEATURES | 5
Healthy Breakfast
Coastal Carolina Quidditch

SPORTS | 6
Women's Lacrosse

ENTERTAINMENT | 7
Black or White
Mac Miller

THE CHANTICLEER

THE STUDENT VOICE OF COASTAL CAROLINA UNIVERSITY

Samantha Bergold
Editor-in-Chief

Kara Thomas
Assistant Editor

Lauren Rose
Art Director

Gwen Washington
Assistant Art Director

Reporters

Hallie Bonds
Ian Brooking
Falcya Crace
Dameon Ouzts
Jessica Wetzler
Jamal Yeldell

Photographers

Ian Brooking

Business Manager

Ridge Moss

Copy Editor

Falcya Crace

Faculty Advisor

Gwen Fowler

FOLLOW YOUR HEART.

ARCHARIOS LITERARY ART MAGAZINE

Read our blog, keep up to date with submissions, visit our archive, or get involved ww2.coastal.edu/archarios/

CONTACT US

On-Campus Location
Jackson Student Union A-202

843.349.2330

thechanticleer@g.coastal.edu

The Chanticleer is the editorially independent student produced newspaper of Coastal Carolina University. It is published weekly during the fall and spring semesters with an Orientation Issue distributed during summer months.

Opinions expressed in The Chanticleer are those of the editors or author and do not necessarily express the opinions of the university's student body, administration, faculty, or staff.

Letters to the editor are welcome from the CCU community. The editor reserves the right to condense submissions and edit for libel and space. Submission does not guarantee publication.

Advertisements are paid advertisements and reflect the views and opinions of the advertiser, not The Chanticleer or Coastal Carolina University.

The Chanticleer is committed to accuracy. If you find an error in this edition of The Chanticleer, let us know. Report mistakes to: thechanticleer@g.coastal.edu and corrections will be printed in the following issue.

WEEKLY FORECAST

10/7 - 10/13

			HIGH	LOW	PRECIPITATION
10/7	WEDNESDAY		77°	58°	0%
10/8	THURSDAY		79°	62°	0%
10/9	FRIDAY		81°	64°	10%
10/10	SATURDAY		76°	62°	20%
10/11	SUNDAY		74°	57°	10%
10/12	MONDAY		77°	60°	10%
10/13	TUESDAY		77°	61°	30%

Follow us!

The Chanticleer

TheChanticleer

TheChanticleerNews

WANT TO SEE

YOUR

AD IN OUR NEXT ISSUE?

CONTACT OUR BUSINESS MANAGER FOR MORE INFO

Hurricane Joaquin hits Coastal Carolina

Ian Brooking
REPORTER

Hurricane Joaquin has made his presence known here on campus this past week.

Whether it be from the small ponds forming on the sidewalks between Chanticleer Hall and Tradition Hall or the pounding of rain on the rooftops of buildings, Joaquin has established himself as a disturber of the peace here at Coastal Carolina.

On October 3, 2015, President Obama declared a state of emergency for the state of South Carolina as hurricane Joaquin makes his way up the east coast. The announcement by the President means that state and local authorities can receive federal funding to help deal with the flooding that is to come.

Currently passing through the Bahamas, Joaquin has now been labeled as a Category 4 Hurricane by the National Weather Service. While off the coast of the Bahamas, Hurricane Joaquin overcame a 224 meter long cargo ship, the El Faro. Rescue teams are still searching for the ship and the 33 crew members on board, after it went missing on Thursday morning.

A category four hurricane can bring heavy rainfall, damaging floods and winds up to 155 miles per hour. The National Weather Service predicts that many parts of the state will see approximately 15 inches of rain by Sunday evening.

Many of South Carolina cities are preparing for Joaquin's arrival. The history city of Charleston, less than 100 miles south of Conway, has closed several streets in their downtown area and have piled up sandbags in efforts to keep floodwaters out of their hallowed city.

The rain certainly did not dampen the spirits here at Coastal Carolina during homecoming week. Over 9,000 people braced the threat of rain and made their way to Brooks Stadium on Saturday to watch their Chanticleers throttle Alabama A&M by a score of 55-0.

You may dampen our campus Joaquin, but you will not dampen the passion of Coastal Carolina.

IAN BROOKING, THE CHANTICLEER

The Shell Squad

Falicya Crace
REPORTER

Wally is making his mark around campus by stepping out of the posters and on to campus.

Wally, as most students on campus know is the Wall Pond turtle that is the mascot for social norms. The campaign behind Wally focuses on correcting misconceptions about drinking and parting behaviors of Coastal Carolina University students.

The Wally campaign has undergone a transformation this semester with the campaign branching out from its original roots with social norms and promoting an overall healthy lifestyle for students. Dr. Mark Flynn is a faculty advisor for the Wally campaign. Dr. Flynn said they are focusing on increasing the campaigns presence on campus.

"A big focus for the campaign is increasing Wally's physical presence on campus with the Wally mascot, taking information on posters and putting it with students and allowing students within the campaign to talk with students around campus and making them aware of the purpose of Wally and making them feel like they are a part of the campaign," said Dr. Flynn.

A way that the campaign is interacting more with students on campus is with the members of the campaign, known as the Shell Squad, promoting the Wally message around campus.

A way that the Shell Squad is interacting with students is creating a Twitter hashtag (#shellsquad) that allows students who buy into the Wally message to share their thoughts and show their support on Twitter.

The shell squad visits classrooms sharing the Wally message and hands out Wally t-shirts to those who want to support the message.

TJ Kilbride is the Wally campaign coordinator. He said the hashtag will connect more students with the campaign on campus.

"The purpose of the hashtag is to connect students that resonate with the term," said Kilbride. "The shell squad are students who embody the values and messages that Wally spreads on campus. This also helps other students believe the statistics and understand it is okay to behave in a certain way."

Kilbride said one of the most drastic and noticeable ways that the Wally campaign has transformed this semester is with the creation of the Wally mascot and the hashtag #WallyWednesday.

"The Wally mascot came from Coastal Carolina students," said Kilbride. "When asked what makes coastal unique, students said the turtles in Wall pond. Wally the turtle was created soon after and the mascot emerged shortly after to make his presences more felt on campus."

The campaign wants to extend its message and show its support to other organizations that are promoting healthy lifestyles on campus to Coastal Carolina students.

"Wally Wednesday is when Wally goes around campus and highlights another organization," said Kilbride. "This aims at helping students learn all of the things this campus has to offer them, as well as allowing Wally to spread his name and gain the followers from the other organizations on campus."

COURTESY PHOTO

Royalty was crowned

Samantha Bergold &
Jessica Wetzler

Royalty was crowned at the 2015 homecoming game.

At halftime, Chip Mullen and Kelsie Miller were crowned Homecoming King and Queen for the 2015 - 2016 school year.

Chip Mullen was representing the LIFE Program.

"Thank you very much for voting for me," said Mullen.

Kelsie Miller was representing Alpha Delta Pi.

Miller said she is completely shocked.

"There was so many amazing people on homecoming court this year and its an honor to represent our university," said Miller. "I am excited and happy. I am so overwhelmed right now."

Miller wants her fellow students to know that anything is possible.

"My freshman year, I started out really depressed," said Miller. "I didn't think that I had a home and this university became my home and you can do anything you set your mind to."

IAN BROOKING, THE CHANTICLEER

FROM PARKING | PAGE 1

wheelchair is so low to the ground." Lepley said sometimes cars will nearly back into her.

"It's even more difficult when it's raining because then I get drenched trying to find a way up onto the sidewalk," said Lepley. "It happens on campus as well, but I don't have to deal with it quite as often because I don't have to go anywhere on campus that puts me in that situation."

Lepley said she has noticed the problem happening every year. She notified her Resident Advisor and Public Safety.

"I was told that public safety would be on the lookout for it, but it's still happening more than it should," said Lepley. "Now my friends and I have started to use the public safety tip line to report specific instances when we see this happening."

Lepley wants students to know that the spots are there for a reason.

"People use those ramps," said Lepley. "Please find somewhere else to park if you're one of the people who parks in no park zones. Even if you're only there to run inside really quickly to get something or to wait for a friend to come out of a building, it shouldn't be done. The sidewalks are for everyone and should be easily accessible to everyone at all times."

IAN BROOKING, THE CHANTICLEER

STEP UP AGAINST SEXUAL ASSAULT!

SEXUAL VIOLENCE AWARENESS WEEK

OCTOBER 5 - 9

05 MONDAY

The Clothesline Project displayed campuswide

Step Up! Against Sexual Violence • 3 p.m. • Lib Jackson
Student Union A213

06 TUESDAY

Poster Making Station for Take Back the Night • 11 a.m. -
1 p.m. • Prince Lawn

Take Back the Night • 8 p.m. • E. Craig Wall, Jr. College of Business Horseshoe

07 WEDNESDAY

The Clothesline Project • 10 a.m. - 2 p.m. • Prince Lawn &
The COAST Office

How Attitudes toward Women Impact Sexual Violence • 4 p.m. • Lib Jackson Student Union A213

"The Hunting Ground" Part II • 6 p.m. • Lib Jackson
Student Union Theatre

08 THURSDAY

RAINN Day • 10 a.m. - 2 p.m. • Prince Lawn

Risk Reduction for Sexual & Relationship Violence • 5 p.m. • Lib
Jackson Student Union A213

Sponsored by The CCU CARES Coalition

FEATURES

A healthy breakfast gets you better grades

Falicya Crace
REPORTER

Eating a healthy breakfast allows students to maintain overall success in their academic careers.

Classes are getting busier and activities are picking up. However, it is very important for students overall health and body weight to eat what could be considered the most important meal of the day. Unfortunately, most college students do not have time in their busy schedules to worry about eating a healthy breakfast.

Registered Dietician Kelly Magowan said most college students are looking for something fast and on the go to eat for breakfast.

Magowan said many students do not feel hungry in the morning.

"This is due to the fact that they have trained their bodies to skip breakfast," said Magowan. "If they start to incorporate breakfast in the mornings, they will slowly break the habit and notice they wake up hungrier."

For most college students their version of breakfast includes a venti cup of coffee from Starbucks, a candy bar, or nothing at all. Staying out all night, late nights at the library, or a part time job are reasons why students chose to sleep in as late as they can and wake up just in time to get to class, having enough time to eat a good quality breakfast is far from their list of top priorities.

According to the United States Department of Agriculture, when students choose to skip breakfast their blood-sugar levels are very low as they begin their school day.

Breakfast provides daily nutrients, protein, fiber, calcium, and carbohydrates. Eating a healthy breakfast does not only help your body perform it helps your mind perform as well.

"It is called breakfast because you are breaking your fast from the dinner you ate the night before," said Magowan. "It kick starts your metabolism for the day, helping your body to utilize, and burn calories more efficiently. By properly nourishing their body regularly, students will be able to perform better in the classroom."

According to the United States Department of Agriculture, eating a healthy breakfast can improve intellectual performance, concentration, and test scores for students. Breakfast promotes success in the classroom. A well balanced breakfast offers important nutritional foundation for a productive and healthy day. When students eat breakfast they tend to eat a healthier overall diet, one that is more nutritious and lower in fat.

A study conducted in 2005 on eating habits and academic performance reported in the "Journal of the American Dietetic Association" found that breakfast prepares students to work toward good grades. The study showed that eating breakfast on a regular basis can improve student's memory and problem solving skills by affecting the brain's short term blood sugar necessities and long term nutritional support.

Coastal Carolina student Milt Higgins said he knows eating a healthy breakfast would benefit him, but most of the time he is too lazy to make it.

"On test days, I make sure that I eat something before going to class," said Higgins. "I can definitely tell a difference in my performance after eating breakfast."

The Food Research and Action Center states when students eat a complete breakfast instead of a partial breakfast they work more quickly with fewer math and number errors than students who do not. A healthy breakfast contributes to students having better performances on vocabulary and visual skills tests. Dean of Library Services Barbara Bud said drinking coffee alone in the morning is not healthy.

"Having a liquid breakfast, such as a protein shake, is more of a benefit than not eating breakfast at all," said Bud.

Coastal Carolina offers a variety of options on campus for students to eat a healthy breakfast including Hicks Dining Hall, UP café, Starbucks, Einstein's Bagels, and Chauncey's choice. Hicks offers students a buffet style breakfast including made to order omelets, waffles, a fruit and yogurt bar, bacon, and whole wheat pancakes. If students are on the run and want to grab and go, Starbucks and Einstein's offers a variety of pastries, smoothies, coffees, and breakfast sandwiches.

If students are living off campus and would rather bring or prepare their own breakfast at home here are a few things to keep in mind. A healthy breakfast includes fruits, vegetables, dairy, and grains. If students are in a rush a small bag of trail mix, peanut butter crackers, a slice of whole grain toast or a piece of fruit are good items to grab on their way out the door.

If students would rather have a liquid breakfast a fruit and yogurt smoothie or a breakfast shake works perfectly. If students have enough time to prepare themselves breakfast, an omelet with fresh veggies and bacon or sausage with a slice of toast would give them all the energy they would need for their day.

According to Shake Up Your Wake up, students who choose to not eat breakfast are effectively running on empty, eating breakfast can make students happier due to it improving student's moods and lowering their stress levels. Just like other organs in the body, the brain needs energy to work at its best and breakfast supplies that energy.

COURTESY PHOTO

Quidditch added to club sports roster

Samantha Bergold
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Quidditch is now recognized as a club sport instead of a student organization on campus.

For those who do not know, quidditch is a cross between rugby and ultimate frisbee.

Maddie Hibbs is the president of the Coastal Carolina quidditch team.

"It's a full contact co-ed club sport," said Hibbs.

"This is the first semester that we have been a club sport," said Hibbs. "We are finally being recognized for what we do."

Hibbs said the club sport director Taylor Poth has been amazing to the team.

"He has been very welcoming," said Hibbs. "He has done so much for us already."

At Coastal Carolina, club sports get to choose their practice location first and get funding.

"It's a great way to stay active," said Michels. "It's a great workout."

Michels said the quidditch team are athletes and that everybody in the community is welcoming.

"Everybody on every quidditch team is so welcoming," said Hibbs.

Ashley Michels said she decided to join the Coastal Carolina quidditch team during her freshman year.

"After the first practice I was hooked," said Michels.

Ashley Michels said she enjoys how much fun the team has together.

"We're always having a good time together while working hard to better ourselves," said Michels.

Michels said quidditch stands out from other club sports because it is a sport unlike any other.

"We include rules from hockey and soccer, but tackling from rugby and aspects of dodge ball," said Michels. "So many sports are put together to create quidditch. As well as abiding by parts of the Harry Potter books. It's an amazing hybrid of a sport that is constantly evolving."

IAN BROOKING, THE CHANTICLEER

would be

FROM DESIGN CLASH | PAGE 1

an even number of opponents, but one of East Carolina University's teams had another prior engagement.

Assistant Professor of Graphic Design Jacob Cotton explains more about the competition.

"The competition is going to be a yearly competition which will rotate among participating schools," said Cotton. "Next year East Carolina has agreed to be the host."

Each team is grouped with one senior, two juniors, and one sophomore. The prize given to the winning team is a plaque engraved with each student's name.

"Imagine the winning school hanging the plaque in their respective graphic design labs, much like the Stanley Cup," said Cotton.

Cotton explained how he likes to incorporate camaraderie among his students, showing them the value of team work and communication while looking forward to competition.

"On the first night of the event each team will receive a problem that focuses on branding, advertising, and packaging," said Cotton. "No team knows what the specific problem is until day two of the event."

On day two the teams will have six to seven hours to work on solving their problem. By the end of the day, each team will send their finished product to judges who are in other parts of the country. The awards will be presented the next morning.

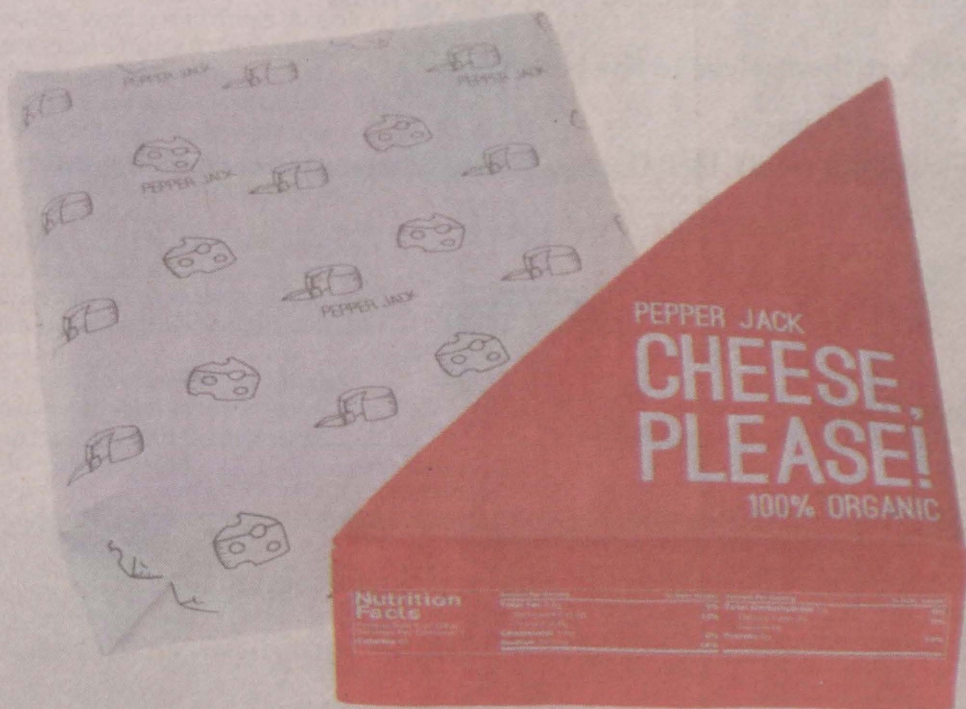

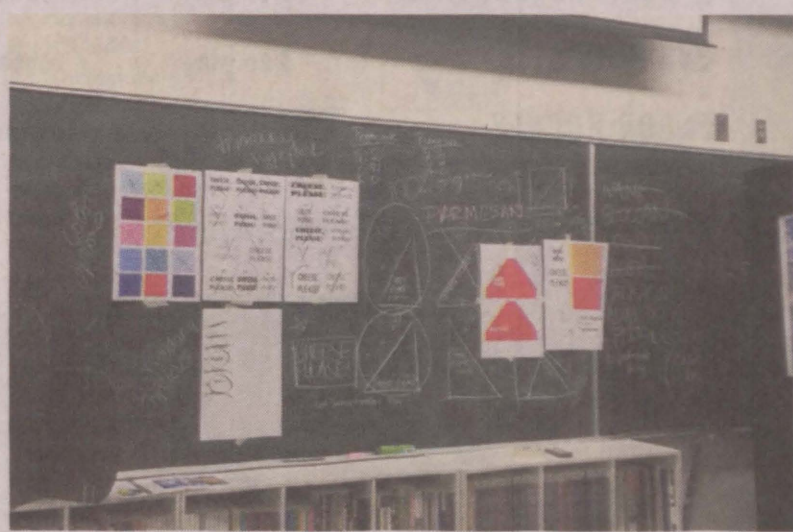

Coastal Carolina University team leader Alex Barley explains how his teammates prepared.

"I enjoyed the role of being the team leader for the reason that the obstacles that we came across are things that do happen in the real world and you're not able to really spend too much time making decisions when you have that much on your plate," said Barley. "The quick decision making combined with making sure my team was working as a cohesive unit even though we were doing different parts is definitely something you'd see in a design firm."

Barley said that this will be a nice addition to his growing portfolio. Professor Cotton hopes that the competition will encourage more art programs to get into the idea of creating other types of design competitions.

Alex Barley, Caroline Carini, Christina Teruel, and Theresa Calabrese are this year's Coastal Carolina Design Clash champions.

COURTESY PHOTOS

New future for women's lacrosse

Kara Thomas
ASSISTANT EDITOR

On August 18, 2015, Kristen Selvage was introduced as the new head coach of the women's lacrosse team at Coastal Carolina University.

Selvage was born in Reading, PA and was raised in Boyertown, PA. Lacrosse was very popular in her area growing up.

She played lacrosse at Lock Haven University. She has a huge passion for the sport. She wanted to continue on after college and become a coach.

"Lacrosse is fast, there is a ton of finesse, and it is evolving very quickly," said Selvage.

Selvage started her coaching career at a few Division three schools in New York State. She then made her way back to Lock Haven University, where she coached for the last 14 years. With this season, it will be her 18th year of coaching.

"Challenging others to exceed their own expectations and demand excellence from themselves is rewarding," said Selvage. "Also, just being around the sport that I love is very exciting."

Selvage led the program at Lock Haven to three NCAA Division II championship appearances since 2009.

She became the 2015 Intercollegiate Women's Lacrosse Coaches' Association Division II coach of the year. During that season, Lock Haven went 20-1 overall and 12-0 in the Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference.

The Coastal Carolina women's lacrosse team is a newly developed program that began in February 2013. This past season the team went 11-6 overall and reached the semifinals of the conference's tournament championship.

This year, Selvage wants to continue to build the success that they had.

"The team is on the verge of great success," said Selvage. "We are ready to get them the rest of the way."

This year the lacrosse team will be playing on the new teal turf. To prepare for the upcoming season, the team is doing a lot of conditioning and team scrimmages.

They have traveled to Richmond for a tournament and will be traveling to some more tournaments in the near future. Selvage will bring some changes to the season and develop a faster moving offense with a tighter defensive unit.

"We want our Chant fans to be loud and proud and learn everything they can about our game," said Selvage. "We just want everyone to pack the stadium for every home game."

The team opens the season in mid February with a home game against Elon on the teal turf.

IAN BROOKING, THE CHANTICLEER

FROM HOMECOMING | PAGE 1

more touchdowns into the second quarter.

In the second quarter, Touchdowns were made by Tyrell Blanks and Frankie Richardson. This was Frankie Richardson's first touchdown play. A field goal was made by Ryan Granger. By halftime, the score was 38-0.

Completed plays continued to be made as two more touchdowns were made. Bruce Mapp made an outstanding catch from Michael Church, making the score 45-0. Church shortly completed a touchdown and made the score 52-0 by the end of the third quarter.

When the fourth quarter came around, it was clear that there would not be a loss for the Chanticleers today. A final field goal was made by Granger and ending the score at 55-0.

In regards to the team and how Coach Joe Moglia took the game, the defense showed improvement and came along at shutting them down.

Moglia stated that the defense was improving, and there were not as many breakdowns on the field, but the team still needed to be better at tackling. The second and third unit held the ground after the first unit and continued to complete plays to later gain more points on the scoreboard. The special teams were solid when it came to defense as well.

Today's game was not only another victory in the conference, but it was Coastal Carolina's 100th win in the program with a record of 100 wins and 49 losses.

It was clear that winning the 100th game and it being the homecoming game was just an amazing win in all aspects.

The next game will be held at Coastal Carolina as the Chanticleers play against Presbyterian College on October 10, 2015.

COURTESY PHOTO

CHECK OUT WHAT'S HAPPENING IN

CAMPUS REC

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Fall Session II Registration open September 21st - October 9th

Session II play begins after Fall Break on Sunday, October 11th

SOCCER	7 to play	15 roster max
INDOOR VOLLEYBALL	6 to play	13 roster max
3V3 HOOPS	3 to play	7 roster max
FLOOR HOCKEY	5 to play	11 roster max

TO REGISTER VISIT: www.imleagues.com/Coastal

SURF LESSONS

October 4th

Join the instructors from Island Inspired for surf lessons at 10am near Springmaid Pier in Myrtle Beach.

$10 for CCU Students, Faculty, & Staff for the 1-hour lesson, equipment included. Participants must transport themselves to the beach.

REGISTER ONLINE BY 10/1 AT: <http://www.coastal.edu/recreation/store/>

AMERICAN RED CROSS LIFEGUARD CERTIFICATION

October 23-25

Become a lifeguard!

Contact Jackie Sales with Questions: jackie@coastal.edu

FOR MORE INFORMATION, VISIT OUR WEBSITE AT: <http://www.coastal.edu/recreation/aquatics/certifications>

FOR MORE INFORMATION ON CCU CAMPUS RECREATION PROGRAMS AND SERVICES VISIT: www.coastal.edu/recreation

Reviews

RESTAURANT

Dough Boys

LOCATION
MYRTLE BEACH, SC
TYPE
PIZZERIA
RATING
7.5

Dough Boys is a New York Style Pizzeria that offers pasta, stromboli, calzones, subs, and pizza.

Although the place is rather small inside, there is a indoor seating for customers to eat. They offer pickup and delivery services for customers within a certain distance.

The pizzeria makes its food the New York way, which will never leave customers unsatisfied. The options for pizza orders are divided between New York style, which uses a homemade sauce and specialty pizza, which uses a white sauce base. Options for pizza sizes range from a small 12 inch pizza, a medium 16 inch pizza, and a large 20 inch pizza.

Options for non pizza lovers include calzones and stromboli's. Pasta options include baked ziti, ravioli, and spaghetti. Hot subs are an option that have many different toppings.

Cooking time for orders only takes about 10 to 15 minutes. Lunch specials are served from 11am to 4pm. Sunday through Thursday, they are open from 11am to 9pm. From Friday to Saturday, they are open from 11am to 10pm.

Dough boys offer many different food options for customers and gets you more bang for your buck.

Jessica Wetzler
REPORTER

MUSIC

GO:OD AM

ARTIST
MAC MILLER
GENRE
RAP
RATING
9.5

Mac Miller is back with a vengeance. Pittsburgh's very own has returned to the scene with more heat than ever before.

Miller continues to add some much needed diversity to a generation where all rap sounds the same.

The self proclaimed "bad little Jew" of the northeast has a witty and comical flow that caters to the listener that yearns for more than what currently passes for hip-hop and rap music. Miller's first studio album with Warner Bros. and third album overall, GO:OD AM, brings casual fans back to what led to his sudden explosion on the scene in 2010. Miller portrays a visual that is, without question, worlds apart from his previous album released in 2013, Watching Movies With The Sound Off.

GO:OD AM, which is stylized to resemble an alarm clock, has more of a welcoming, chill sound to it. In this album, Miller returns to his roots that were ditched for Watching Movies With The Sound Off, which had a much more dark, depressing tone to express his current situation. Now, he has changed his lifestyle for the better, cleared his mind of all of the stress and negativity, and has graciously opened up about his previous trials and tribulations. The eleventh track on the album, 'Perfect Circle / God Speed' takes the listeners through his dark times, but after the clever interlude brings us to what lessons Miller learned from escaping his previous mindset.

With GO:OD AM, Mac Miller does more than put out another hit album, he breaks free from his journey filled with sorrow and despair, and brings the listeners along for the ride. GO:OD AM is Miller's symbol of hope, and can be the listener's hope too.

Dameon Ouzts
REPORTER

PARENTAL
ADVISORY
EXPLICIT CONTENT

FILM

Black or White

GENRE
DRAMA
RELEASE DATE
30 JANUARY 2015
RATING
9

Black or White, directed by Mike Binder, tells the story of a widow named Elliot, who is left to take care of his biracial granddaughter, Eloise, after his wife dies in a car accident. Eloise's mother died while giving birth to her. Her father is unreliable and not present in her life.

The biggest conflict of the film is when Eloise's paternal grandmother Rowena decides to fight Elliot for custody of Eloise. Rowena uses all of her tools to try to win the custody battle. Rowena's strongest tool is her brother Jeremiah. She has him be her lawyer. Tensions stay high throughout the film.

Eloise's father Reggie adds to the constant conflict, when in the middle of the custody battle causes his own scene asking Elliot for money and going through his own battle of financial stability, alcohol, and drugs. Reggie even attempt's to take Eloise from the house one night without Elliot knowing.

Throughout the film the ideals of racial tension are brought to life on the screen as each grandparent is fighting over Eloise, both coming from different backgrounds and living different lifestyles.

Black or White will have you on the edge of your seat the whole time wanting to know the result of the custody battle at the end, rooting for one side or the other, only wanting what is best for Eloise.

The drama is worth the watch, as viewers get to see an in depth story of two sides of a family clash together with the interest of their little girl Eloise in mind.

black or white
Music From The Motion Picture Music By Trenton Dabbs

Hallie Bonds
REPORTER

the top five

Halloween films to watch in October

1 Beetlejuice

Beetlejuice. Beetlejuice. Beetlejuice. The crazy outfits, absurd furniture, and the original goth girl, Winona Rider. This film offers the viewer everything they want in a film. It has a great plot, funny jokes, and even has a musical number. If you are not singing along to the 'Banana Boat Song,' you are not doing it right.

2 Casper

The original Casper with Christina Ricci is a classic. Who does not love Casper the friendly ghost? This film will bring you back to your childhood. You will laugh and you may cry. When Casper whispers "I keep you," it pulls at all of our heart strings.

3 The Goonies

The Goonies is iconic. Any film written by Steven Spielberg is. The film is about a group of kids looking for treasure trying to save their family. Who does not love a film with Corey Feldman? Remember, goonies never say "die."

4 Halloweentown & Halloweentown II

These two films bring us all back to our childhood. You cannot watch one without the other. Marne finds out she is a witch and is determined to use her powers. She helps save Halloweentown and her world not once, but twice.

5 Hocus Pocus

Your Halloween is not complete without Hocus Pocus, enough said.

Samantha Bergold
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

The Chanticleer

TheChanticleerNews

TheChanticleer

ENTERTAINMENT

WORD SEARCH

R Y D B P V D U E A E Q R F A M Z F N Y
Q T W W F L X Y G N G G R K T K M E W Z
R R R L I N H N A R G K B T A X I R W N
K I A G B O Y L A C V N J P M C K R I Y
E C C H K R P C F H H N O Q F N Y Y U D
B Y R P R O Q R V B K T N O K I K D R I
D C D O R Z Q S U B M A R I N E F K T C
M L L E H E S S N H B O Q B E H B C R K
C E A U C C K V K A P Z V P K E Y Y Q C
B O H O E J A O F H B T A N K E R G B Q
Z C A T T J T S C P S H R I J L H T A M
M O H C K X E V H O L E T S U B B T L G
O Z K X H Y B H Y D D V R A A G I R L B
T O D K W D O W Y I A O M I D M C A O M
O A W I E Q A E L T T V V R Z R Y M O I
R D S P P V R G A C F M V C B U C R N N
B K O U K J D O A N P K T R X K L Z H I
I M H P I O B R G V I W I A P N E A A B
K L S C O O T E R Z B H L F I K N T N U
E H W T G R T V S C D Y A T R A I N I S

TRANSPORT

BICYCLE CAR LORRY MOTORBIKE SKATEBOARD SCOOTER

FERRY TAXI MINIBUS BALLOON GLIDER

TANKER TRAIN MOPED TRICYCLE COACH TRAM

BOAT YACHT AEROPLANE AIRCRAFT TRACTOR SUBMARINE

CROSSWORD

PR MOVES

- ACROSS
- 1 Exodus leader
6 At right angles, in sailing
11 Top 40 music
14 Dispatch boat
15 Subject's superior
16 "To what do I ___ the pleasure?"
17 Divided into segments
19 It's stranded in the human body
20 Tattered clothing, e.g.
21 Discourage from acting
23 Too many to count
27 English nobles
29 Victory emblem
30 Spot for some sports
31 Newbies on the job
32 Crazy, south of the border
34 Rink material
37 A bit naughty
38 Dieter's breakfast, perhaps
39 On the peak of
40 Gray matter?
41 A natural in Reno
42 Clip, as trees
43 Briefed
45 Papal bull, e.g.
- 46 Free
48 Take hold of
49 Not accidental
50 Story inconsistency
51 A globe, for one
52 Swiveling, in ballet
59 Website address
60 Beautify with bangles
61 Lofty nest
62 "A pocketful of ___"
63 "... with ___ in sight"
64 Had a nap
- DOWN
- 1 Atlas graphic
2 Fertility clinic stock
3 Officer, to a grunt
4 Low or high end?
5 Swanky evening parties
6 Join with others in a cause
7 Short life stories
8 Early night, to a bard
9 One's time on this planet
10 Interferes
11 You may sit for it
12 Had amongst one's things
13 Boscs and Bartletts
18 Asian weight unit
22 Geologic division
23 The "U" in UHF
24 Noted pyramid builders
25 On the market
26 Helen of ___
27 City in Georgia or France
28 Skillet material
32 Mississippi River feature
33 "Bravo, bull-fighter!"
35 Ice-cream receptacles
36 Blunted swords
38 Game show pioneer
39 Pitched softball trajectories
41 Shallow basin in a desert region
42 Spanish money, once
44 Came in first place
45 Big name in pineapples
46 Stevie Wonder's "My Cherie ___"
47 Jam ingredient
48 Dog shelter
50 Car tooter
53 Wedding declaration
54 Shad eggs
55 ___ Aviv
56 Ill temper
57 Pup's bite
58 Comprehend

weekly
best-betsWednesday, October 7th

The Graduation Fair is designed to provide seniors with everything they need for graduation. At the fair, you can buy your cap, gown, tassel, and alumni merchandise. The event will be held in the HTC Center from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Thursday, October 8th

The Colleges Against Cancer Club will be on Prince Lawn at 11 a.m. You can learn information about the organization and their upcoming Relay for Life event.

Friday, October 9th

Brooklyn Mack will be performing his talent of ballet dancing in the Wheelwright Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. For ticket information, you can contact Wheelwright Box Office at 843-349-ARTS (2787).

Saturday, October 10th

Coastal Carolina will be playing Presbyterian at 2 p.m. at home. You can come cheer on your undefeated team.

Sunday, October 11th

The Coastal Carolina student gospel choir will be performing music at their annual concert. The concert will be held in Wheelwright Auditorium from 4:30 p.m. - 6:30 p.m.

Monday, October 12th

There will be a FIFA 16 Video Game Tournament in the Lib Jackson Student Union game room at 6 p.m. You can sign up for the tournament on Coastal Connections.

Tuesday, October 13th

Reggie Shaw will be telling his story about texting and driving in Wheelwright Auditorium at 6:30 p.m.

Samantha Bergold
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

HOROSCOPES

Prioritizing your goals will make it much easier to realize them. You will make very little headway if you keep getting hung up on unimportant tasks. Make a point to seek advice from people whose talents and strategies you admire. Maximize your skills and the effort you put forth.

AQUARIUS

JANUARY 20 - FEBRUARY 19

Keeping cool, calm and collected will help your day run smoothly. Your diplomatic attitude will force others to bend and meet you halfway.

PISCES

FEBRUARY 20 - MARCH 20

Securing your future will take work. Do whatever is necessary. Your instincts are sharp, and focus will help you reach your goals.

ARIES

MARCH 21 - APRIL 19

Your creative energy is riding a crest. No matter what you decide to do, you will get positive results. Rewards will follow.

TAURUS

APRIL 20 - MAY 20

Before tackling something new, take care of your responsibilities. Live up to your promises and don't leave unfinished business.

GEMINI

MAY 21 - JUNE 20

With your people skills, you will come out ahead of the competition. You know just what to say to persuade others. Ask for help if you need it.

CANCER

JUNE 21 - JULY 22

The past will influence your future. If you reconsider previous relationships, you will be able to pick up where you left off. Love is in the air.

LEO

JULY 23 - AUGUST 22

Don't let your talents go to waste. There is bound to be a community or neighborhood event that will benefit from your experience and input.

VIRGO

AUGUST 23 - SEPTEMBER 22

Don't get involved in a dispute. If you control your emotions and listen to the advice people are offering you, you will discover what you need to do.

LIBRA

SEPTEMBER 23 - OCTOBER 23

Make an effort to reconnect with old friends. Time spent with people who have headed in a different direction than you will provide food for thought.

SCORPIO

OCTOBER 24 - NOVEMBER 22

Unnecessary arguing will hinder you. Don't get involved in someone else's affairs. If you are stubborn, you will back yourself into a corner.

SAGITTARIUS

NOVEMBER 23 - DECEMBER 21

Your popularity and charm are highlighted. Take part in as many social events as possible in order to get the opportunity to promote.

CAPRICORN

DECEMBER 22 - JANUARY 19

Don't overspend when trying to help others. Sticking to a strict budget will help you ease stress. Offer your advice and emotional support.

SUDOKU

